

Bringing life to the old brewery

Bringing life to the old brewery

CZECH REPUBLIC Development companies Euro Ventures and Itaka are to jointly carry out the Lochkov Lofts residential project located on the south-western outskirts of Prague, 13 km from the city centre. A former brewery is to be redeveloped in the district of Lochkov, to create 73 residential units. The complex will feature apartments ranging in size from 30 sqm to 125 sqm. A building permit has now been issued for the project, which is likely to be launched in the spring of next year and to be completed by the end of 2011.